of the widows The I Gl was also Requested to Submit a Statement comparing the rates of Scholarships ~~allowed to widows~~ in recently sanctioned in Madras for the benefit of widows with those granted in Mysore He has furnished the latter information but states that the revision of the rates of Scholarships in the Maharani's College would take some time and Requests that the monthly grant of Rs 100 from the State Funds to the D B C E Fund on account of Scholarships to widows may be sanctioned early without waiting for the above information as the question has to be discussed by the Maharani College Committee

The I Gl had also proposed to meet the additional cost from Savings under the Head Grant in aid which amounts to more Rs 2,000.

These papers are now before the Dewan

Asked thro the 1st Councillor for orders. It will be seen that Mr Narasimmiengar, the promoter of this movement is urgeous & solicitous of obtaining early sanction to an additional grant on the ground that the funds now available are not sufficient to meet the numerous applications which are being received from various parts of the Province. He seems to apprehend that if the spontaneous applications of the public are not readily availed of they may be cheek given to the progress of the movement.

I beg once again to support this application for a grant of Rs 100. The figures furnished by the Manchester Board for themselves when I last dealt with the ~~question~~ matter I thought that a grant of Rs 50 at least should be sanctioned if the 100 Rs asked for could not be given. I find from the information since obtained that a grant of Rs 100 is unobjectionable. I am in further correspondence with the Bhadra that they should not be required to await a revision of the scale of scholarships in the Maharaja College. The two are independent matters each of which has to be dealt with on its own merits & there is very good case for the very early grant

N O T E

Mr A Narasihma Iyengar has applied for a Grant-in-aid of Rs1,200 per annum to supplement the Devaraj Bahadur Fund which yields now about Rs2,500 annually, for increasing the number of scholarships to ~~Hindu~~ widows who are more largely availing themselves of the educational facilities existing now than before The full income from the Devaraj Fund is not being used now for scholarships to widows As per G O No C 186 dated 30th March 1893 A it is divided in the proportion of ~~two-thirds~~ three-fourths and one-~~third~~ fourth between scholarships to widows and encouragement of authors There appears to be no objection to allow the full amount of the income from this fund for the former purpose alone The Educational Budget has an allotment of Rs4,000/- annually for encouraging authors, and this amount is sufficient for this purpose

Regarding the Grant-in-aid required, I believe that the time has come for definitely establishing a certain number of Government scholarships exclusively for widows, The rates and number of scholarships for widows receiving instruction in the Girls' schools of the State other than the aharani's College at sore, which has scholarships of its own, may be as below -

		No.	Rate
I	Standard	6	3	- Rs-18
II	-do-	6	" 4	- " 24
III	-do-	6	" 5	- " 30
IV	-do-	6	" 6	- " 36
V	-do-	6	" 7	- " 42
			Total	- Rs150

Besides the scholarships there may also be 12 guardian allowancesof Rs4 each to be utilized in the case of widows reading in Standards III, IV or V, when necessary

In the case of widows learning English or Sanskrit besides the Vernacular, the scholarships may be increased by a rupee each

Scholarships not utilized in any of the classes may be utilized in any of the other classes, provided that no scholarship should be drawn in a lower class other than at the rate prescribed for that clas

The maximum cost per annum will be Rs 2,736 on this account

The list of scholars may be revised at the commencement of every academical year by the Inspector General of Education to whom also applications for scholarships should be sent

I think it is better that a number of scholarships should be established direct by Government instead of making any grant to a private fund for which there is no precedent and which is opposed to recognized principles As there is a well organized Education Department, it is right that these scholarships should be under the management of that Department The schools concerned with their managing committees may deal with the scholarships under the orders of the Education Department

My memo of the 9th instant circulated to the Councillors explains the desirability of establishing a number of scholarships for widows under the direct control of the State Education Department instead of making any grant to the Devaraj Bahadur Fund These scholarships will be in addition to the present Devaraj Bahadur scholarships and will be available to those to whom the managers of the Devaraj Bahadur Fund cannot now grant scholarships on account of their limited income The maximum cost per annum will be Rs 2,736 on this account and considering the importance of the object it may be considered money well spent His highness may be graciously pleased to sanction the proposal

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL OF EDUCATION IN MYSORE,

No. $\frac{7113}{423}$ (File) enclosure Bangalore, 9th February 1906

From

H J BHABHA, Esq.,
Inspector General of Education in Mysore,

To

B K Venkatarama Iengar Esq
Secretary to the Government of
His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore
General & Revenue Departments
Bangalore

SIR,

With reference to the first part of para 3 of order No $\frac{6041-3}{Ed\ 36-03}$ dated 17th January, 1905, I have the honour to forward copy of a reply from Rao Bahadur A Narasimhiengar, Honorary Secretary of D B Charity Fund, which gives all the information required by Government as to copy of the Madras rules of scholarships for widows is also attached. It will be seen that the whole income of the D B. Charity Fund is devoted to widows' scholarships the total income from the charity fund is Rs 208 whereas the amount distributed in January 1905 was Rs 278. There are many of the applications from widows now submitted to schools this year which have not been completed with. If it is a sign of any satisfactory progress of female education among widows in Mysore that there should be so many applications from them for scholarships all over the Province of Jews we must please remember that for once more to recommend that Government may be pleased to sanction the proposals made by me in my letter No 2663/396 dated 3rd May 1901 at their earliest convenience

With reference to the latter part of para 3 of the order referred to above, I have the honour to inform you that the whole amount of Rs 642 for scholarships allowed to the Maharani's College has been distributed last month by the acting Lady Superintendent to the present students of the College to renew the rates of scholarships, and show savings from the allotment for scholarships, will, I am afraid take a long time as probably the Lady Superintendent will place the matter before the College Committee which will have its own ideas on the subject — I request therefore that Government may kindly not defer the consideration of the grant proposed by me to be made for widows' scholarships to the D.B Charity Fund until the scale of scholarships in Maharani's College is revised.

By doing so, many widows, anxious to acquire education, will be not only disappointed but the education of widows generally will be retarded, a result which I beg to deprecate.

I have the honour
to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant

Mysore D.B.C rates:-

Originally the Memorandum of the trustees provided only three rates of Rs 7, Rs 8 and Rs 9, with a house rent of Rs 3 to pupils coming from out-stations to Mysore. But by experience gained in extending this encouragement to Professional girls' schools, it has been found to suit best to vary the scholarship rates from Rs 3 to Rs 9, to help the pupils in their course to reach the Lower Secondary Standard or Midwifery and nursing in a few cases.

Madras Scale of Scholarships and Guardian Allowances in the Department of Education

To Hindu and Mahomedan Widows

With reference to the recent Government Order sanctioning scholarships for Hindu and Mahomedan widows Miss Carr has now submitted a revised scheme according to which the number of scholarships in the primary classes and lower secondary forms will be increased and scholarships will be given to girls studying in upper secondary forms The revised scheme has the support of the Director of Public Instruction and has been sanctioned by Government Miss Carr s proposals are as follows —

In submitting my original scheme I had in view the central circle only leaving it open to the Inspectresses of the Northern and Southern Circles to ask for its extension to their circles if they should think such a course desirable While however the sanction accorded extends to all the circles I find that in the central circle alone I have already four applications for scholarship No (2) on Rs 5 and three for scholarship No (3) on Rs 6 with two guardian allowances Such being the case even the present number of No (2) scholarship is insufficient to meet the demand in the central circle alone and as there will doubtless be applications in the other two circles there appears to be a necessity for an immediate increase to meet the demand

Again I did not think that for some years to come there would be a demand for scholarships on behalf of any widows reading above the third form but I have had an application from the father of a young widow of 16 years of age who became a widow before she was 11 and who after studying for a few years in the Presidency Training School for Mistresses passed the last lower secondary examination in English in the first class In connection with this matter I submit copies of the father s letters of the 8th and 17th instant respectively and letter No 67 dated 16th February 1903 from the Acting Superintendent of the Presidency Training School for Mistresses From the former it will be seen that a high caste Brahmin has contrary to usual custom been allowing his young widowed daughter to continue her education in a public school and that it is his intention to give her the highest general education possible before having her trained as a teacher It will also be seen from the Superintendent s letter that the character conduct and attainments of the widow are exceedingly good Taking into consideration the great need of well educated Hindu teachers and the fact that more similar instances may exist now or will occur in the near future there appears to me to be a necessity for an immediate extension of the scheme as well as for an increase in the number of scholarships

I therefore beg to recommend the following revised and extended scheme —

(1) Nine scholarships of Rs 4 per mensem tenable for one year to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to read in the third standard or class of any recognised school = 36

(2) Nine scholarships of Rs 5 per mensem tenable for one year to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to read in the fourth standard or class of any recognised school = 45

(3) Nine scholarships of Rs 6 per mensem tenable for one year to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to read in the first form of any recognised school = 54

(4) Nine scholarships of Rs 7 per mensem tenable for one year to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to read in the second form of any recognised school = 63

(5) Nine scholarships of Rs 8 per mensem tenable for one year to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to read in the third form of any recognised school = 72

(6) Eighteen guardian allowances of Rs 5 per mensem tenable for one year to supplement scholarships 3 4 5 and to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to study in places other than their native towns or villages when the schools in their native towns or villages do not contain the required forms = 90

(7) Six scholarships of Rs 10 per mensem tenable for one year to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to read in the fourth form of any recognised school = 60

(8) Six scholarships of Rs 11 per mensem tenable for one year to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to read in the fifth form of any recognised school = 66

(9) Six scholarships of Rs 12 per mensem tenable for one year to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to read in the sixth form of any recognised school = 72

(10) Twelve guardian allowances of Rs 6 per mesem tenable for one year to supplement scholarships 7 8 and 9 to enable Hindu or Mahomedan widows to study in places other than their native towns or villages when the school in their native towns or villages do not contain the required forms = 72

the process by which the ratio of the DBC Fund scholarships underwent some modification is mentioned by way of comparison of the two scales

It is to be noted that by the scheme of the education of widows, the Madras Government aim at solving the difficulty of providing school-mistresses for their Girls' Schools, and are prepared to spend a few thousand rupees every year in developing this scheme and that they offered 63 liberal scholarships with their guardian allowances, of which only 43 have been availed of till now whereas in Mysore we have already begun to show some tangible results not only in the direction of providing Girls' Schools with trained school-mistresses of widows, but also in that of the most needed Medical aid, as midwives and nurses, of whom we have trained and put in the field of service a few satisfactory Brahmin widows already

It further, in contrast to the scarcity of supply of High caste widows in Madras to avail themselves of those scholarships and Guardian allowances offered to them, we, in Mysore, have applications, far exceeding the full amount of the proceeds of the D & C Education Fund to meet them, and hence the application for a Government grant-in-aid to which this docket refers and which is now under the favourable consideration of Government.
